HELIN’s 2011 Strategic Agenda

- Pursue cooperative purchase/license of e-content
- Investigate centralization of technical services
- Pursue single-search box discovery options
- Evaluate current ILS
- Identify professional development opportunities
Collection Development Trends

FROM:
  ◦ Acquiring traditional materials one-by-one

TO:
  ◦ Accessing collections of e-material
    • First journals
    • Then e-books
    • Now streaming content (films, music)

HELIN’s Treatment of E-Content

- Intermingle traditional and web-based materials for 15 years
  - Databases, e-journals and e-books, web pages

- Dual-record approach to cataloging
  - Provider-neutral standards
    - CONSER for journals in 2003
    - PCC for monographs in 2009
  - Adopted by HELIN in 1998 for journals
  - Made move to Serials Solutions in 2004 easier
HELIN’s Tools

- Serials Solutions—14 subscribers
  - A–Z lists
  - Bibliographic records
  - Coverage data – 14 sets
  - Link resolution
Serials Solutions
- 1 set of de-duped e-journal bibliographic records
- Add e-books? All libraries or none

Sets of bibliographic records from providers

Harvesting Digital Collections
Encore Harvesting Services

- Expose digital collections within Encore
- Expand access to local resources & digital archives
Open Archives Initiative (OAI) has defined how machines share Protocol for Metadata Harvesting (PMH)

Harvesting is done in advance of the search

External source indexed locally
  ◦ Allows for better performance
  ◦ Possibility for normalization / processing of data, de-duplication, & other added value
Unified Search Experience

- Promote local use of all collections with the Encore discovery services platform
- Harvested records appear interfiled with catalog search results
Users Finding Resources

- With Encore, user doesn’t have to consider:
  - What kinds of resources they prefer
  - What kinds of resources the library may own / have access to
  - How the library may organize its resources

- Easily manipulate search results with facets to focus on preferred resources, etc.
Users Finding Resources

Can further refine search via facets and tags
Encore lets users tag both bibliographic and harvested records

Subject headings used to seed tag pool with controlled vocabulary

Folksonomy supplements formal metadata

Result is enriched metadata and superior findability

Scottsdale Public Library Digital Collection

Welcome to the Scottsdale Public Library's digital collection. Here you have access to digital images of cultural and historical interest to Scottsdale residents as well as to students, researchers and others. This collection showcases the history and growth of what has changed from a small farming community into a world-class city. At present, the collection’s time period spans the late 1800s to the mid-twentieth century and beyond. The collection contains digital versions of increasingly valuable, fragile and hard-to-use originals of people, places, and things pertaining to the City of Scottsdale. This project is a work in progress so please visit often!

FARM NEWPORT, R. I.
Dec. 28th, 1944. Bryant College, 1 Young Orchard Avenue, Providence, R. I. Gentlemen: It just occurred to me that it might interest you to know that alumnus Charles E. Crocker, Jr., was some weeks ago transferred from England to France and his address now is Cpl. Charles E. Crocker, Jr., 31060712FGRS Replacement Pool, APO 776c/o Postmaster, New York, N.Y. His letters written before December 10 stated that he was in the best of health. We do not know where in France he is or in which part of England he was stationed for a few months. Very truly yours, Char. E. Crocker.

Educating Engineers as Global Citizens: A Call for Action / A Report of the National Summit Meeting on the Globalization of Engineering Education

John M. Grandell, University of Rhode Island

L. Dan Herrmann, Purdue University

Abstract

On November 5-6, 2008, a group of 23 distinguished engineering educators convened in Newport, Rhode Island to discuss the globalization of U.S. engineering education. Their goal was to consider the changes and challenges brought about by the recent wave of globalization and to ask, as so many colleagues are doing around the country, what proactive steps need to be taken by engineering educators to ensure that their graduates are prepared to be productive citizens and professionals in today’s and tomorrow’s complex world. Encouraged and supported by the National Science Foundation (NSF) and its Division of Engineering Education and Centers, the group began its meeting with observations and advice from three executives in the contemporary global business arena. It was then tasked with a review of the rationale for incorporating global perspectives and skills into the engineering curriculum, as well as the urgency for doing so. The reasons for the generally slow response among engineering educators to this matter nationally, when compared to other nations in the industrialized world, were also explored. After consideration of the potential impact of the current economic downturn on this issue, the summit reviewed information about existing successful models and best practices for a more global engineering education at colleges and universities across the country in an attempt to answer the following questions: To what extent are American engineering programs sending their

National Medal Collection
The West Bloomfield Township Public Library was recently awarded the National Medal for Museum and Library Services, the nation’s highest honor for museums and libraries. The award was made by the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) since 1995, recognizing institutions (5 libraries and 5 museums) for outstanding social, educational, environmental, or economic contributions to their communities. The West Bloomfield Township Public Library received the National Medal at a ceremony held in Washington, D.C. for a $10,000 award and a visit from StoryCorps.

Art Around The Library
Images of art found in and around both branches of the Library.

Apple Island
This collection contains a map of how Apple Island looked like in the early 1900’s. There are images of the landscapes of the island throughout the last century. There are also pictures of the architecture on the island spanning from when the building were in use, when the building were in disrepair, and the foundations that are left today. Additionally, there are images of some important events that took place on or about Apple Island.

Architecture of West Bloomfield
The architecture of West Bloomfield is showcased in this collection. Images included are houses, gates, schools, barns, and bridges. Some of the house photos include shots of their interiors.

Greater West Bloomfield Historical Society
The Greater West Bloomfield Historical Society has provided the Library with photos of local history to add to our digital collection. The collection currently contains over 1600 images.

Lakes of West Bloomfield
West Bloomfield area lakes throughout the last century are displayed in this collection through paintings and photographs. There are also images of the recreation offered by the lakes in both summer and winter.

Librarian Book Reviews
The Library staff have been putting together a collection of podcasts consisting of book reviews of some of their favorite titles. This collection will continue to grow.

SLJ Reviews 2001 February
Gr 3-6-These series titles are simple in appearance and format, with large type and lots of white space. Profusely illustrated with full-color and black-and-white reproductions, maps, and photographs, the texts are quite readable, sometimes engagingly so, providing a good introductory overview of the historical sites or event being treated. Unfortunately, many of the quotes are unattributed and the picture captions fail to acknowledge which selections are artists' renderings. The primary weakness in these accounts, however, is in the omission of the Native American perspective on the Jamestown settlers or the Lewis and Clark expedition. The failure to acknowledge that the story of the past is not the same for the different peoples involved is a missed opportunity and poor historiography.-Nancy Collins-Warner, Neill Public Library, Pullman, WA Copyright 2001 Cahners Business Information.
